OVERVIEW

This brochure is intended to give you a better understanding of available housing that is below market rate, in East King County. For purposes of this brochure, we have grouped affordable housing into three basic categories:

King County Housing Authority (KCHA) Managed- HUD Assisted Housing

Privately Managed - HUD Assisted Housing

Privately Managed - Non-HUD Assisted Housing

Following this overview section, there are three sections. Each section provides a more detailed description of each type of affordable housing, and a list of that type of affordable housing available in East King County. Please note that this brochure only includes rental housing available for seniors.

Following is a brief description of each type of below market rate housing which is followed by an explanation of how to determine your income based on the King County Median Income.

King County Housing Authority (KCHA) Managed - HUD Assisted Housing:

This is housing where households pay rent based on their income, and rents will change as income changes. Typically, HUD assisted housing (private or KCHA) gives priority to assisting households earning less than 50% of King County Median income. (see next page) Typically households have to pay approximately 30% of their income for housing. The Housing Authority owns and manages these properties, and maintains a single contact office for all the KCHA properties located in East King County.

Privately Managed - HUD Assisted Housing: Privately Managed - HUD Assisted Housing developments have rents that are similar to King County Housing Authority (KCHA) - HUD Assisted Housing. (See above.) These complexes are privately managed. Each complex maintains its own screening process and must be contacted separately.

Privately Managed - Non-HUD Assisted Housing: This is housing which has set rent levels. Individual complexes may offer different rent levels based on your income. This housing will often have their rents go up annually with inflation, and your rent may also increase if your income substantially increases. These complexes typically have rent levels set to be affordable to households earning up to 80% of the King County Median income (see next page). Each complex maintains its own screening process and must be contacted separately.

Because individual complexes often have long waiting lists, and all the developments listed in this brochure do not use a single centralized waiting list, we recommend that in your search for more affordable housing, you submit applications to several complexes that potentially meet your needs. In addition, ARCH keeps a mailing list of households needing affordable housing. ARCH notifies families and individuals on its mailing list when it learns of affordable housing opportunities.

Determining Household Income- For all affordable housing described in this brochure, eligibility is at least partially based on household income. You must be willing to provide household income information to the property manager. Different types of affordable housing will have different income limits for different size units, and your household income cannot exceed those limits. While different developments have different income limits, all use a similar process for measuring your income. They compare your income to the median (average) household income in King County for a household your size. Your income will then be determined to be a certain percentage of the King County (or Seattle Metropolitan Statistical Area) Median Income. Therefore, we recommend that the first thing you do, is to estimate what your household income is as a percentage of the King County Median Income for a household your size.

To calculate your income as a percentage of the King County Median Income, do the following:

- First Step: Determine your gross household annual income _____
- Second Step: Determine your household size _____
- Third Step: In the following chart, determine the median income for your household size. _____
- Fourth Step: Divide your gross household annual income by the median income for your household size. (Step 1 / Step 3)
This is your household income in terms of the King County Median Income. (See the following example)

2017 Income Chart By Household Size
	1 Person	2 Person	3 Person	4 Person	5 Person	6 Person
2017 Median Income	$67,200	$76,800	$86,400	$96,000	$103,680	$111,360

Following is an example on how to estimate Household Income and household income as a percent of King County Median Income.

Example: Household has two adults (over 18 years) with two children. One adult receives social security benefits of $955 per month and the other adult has a full time job paying $15.00/hour.

- First Step: Determine your gross household annual income:

Adult 1 $955 per month X 12 months =	$11,460
Adult 2 $15/hour X 40 hours/week X 52 weeks/year =	$31,200
Total	$42,660
- Second Step: Determine your household size 4
- Third Step: In the following chart, determine the median income for your household size.

$96,000
- Fourth Step: Divide your gross household annual income by the median income for your household size. (Step 1 / Step 3) This is your household income in terms of the King County Median Income.

$$42,660 / $96,000 = .44$ or 44% of Median

The King County Housing Authority owns and operates developments in King County outside of Seattle financed under a variety of public programs. A number of their developments offers housing in which rents are based on household income. These developments receive assistance from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Typically, a tenant's portion of the rent is 30% of the resident's monthly income. Households who meet certain specified guidelines (e.g. face potential eviction or earn less than 50% of the King County Median Income) may receive priority for residency by the Housing Authority. The Housing Authority maintains separate waiting lists for three subareas of the County. Applicants are offered the first available unit within the subarea that they are on the waiting list. The table on the next page lists projects in East King County owned by the King County Housing Authority, their location and type of units available.

HUD Section 8 Certificate/Voucher Program. In addition to developments operated by the Housing Authority, the Housing Authority administers HUD's Section 8 Certificate/Voucher program. Generally, Section 8 Certificate and Voucher tenants are required to rent privately owned apartment units which do not exceed HUD's fair market rent guidelines based on size and locality. A tenant is required to pay at least 30% of their monthly income toward rent. The balance between the tenant's rent payment and the fair market rent is subsidized by HUD. Income eligibility levels are similar to those listed above for other Housing Authority Programs. This program is administered in a separate office of the Housing Authority. This program only accepts applications for its waiting list during specified periods. For more information on the Section 8 certificate/voucher program contact: (206) 214-1300 extension 6 or visit <http://www.kcha.org/lookingforhousing/section8.aspx>

In addition to HUD assisted housing that is operated by the King County Housing Authority, there are other HUD assisted housing developments that are independently operated by private owners. These developments essentially follow the same income and rent guidelines as the HUD assisted housing operated by the Housing Authority. In some of these complexes only a portion of the units are HUD subsidized, with the balance being conventional rental units. Each of these developments goes through its own process for selecting tenants. Therefore, each privately operated complex should be contacted directly. Following is list of privately operated housing located in east King County in which all or a portion of the units are HUD assisted.

Other local, State and Federal programs are used to provide rental housing with maximum rents that are typically less than market rent levels. In these complexes, rents are fixed at a specific level, and rent increases are tied to changes in the region's median income. Rents are based on a general formula and are not based on the resident's actual income. Therefore, if your income were to decrease, your rent would not decrease. Because these complexes have been funded by a variety of programs, each with its own rules, the rules and guidelines vary for different complexes. Therefore it is important to ask the operator of each project the guidelines and rules they operate under. These complexes may be operated by private, non-profit or public (housing authority) owners, each of whom may have different management rules. The chart on the following pages lists projects in east King County in which all or a portion of their units have some type of affordability restriction. While the chart tries to give basic information on the types of units and general affordability levels, actual rents and income limits vary because of different funders' requirements.

*Income figures represent the maximum annual household income to be eligible for each type of unit. For example, a household cannot have an income greater than $51,840 to be eligible for a two bedroom unit affordable at 60% of median income.

The Income Guideline and Rental Costs chart above can be used only as a rough reference. Each of the following complexes may have additional guidelines and/or restrictions based on the source of funding and household size which will result in different income and/or rent restrictions. The Guideline is based on the 2017 King County / Seattle MSA Median Income of $96,000 per year for a household with four persons. The monthly rent figures include a utility allowance and that allowance amount should be subtracted if the utilities are paid by the tenant.
